Many awesome moves were busted when the Indigenous Hip-Hop artists visited Warlawurru School last Friday. "Shame" was thrown away as everyone was encouraged to be proud and try some moves on the dance floor. Thanks so much to Michael and his group of fantastic dancers.

Well done to Lilly, Terrika, Quasier, Levi, Jasmine, Roshoun, Jai and Joshua.

Sunday's Gospel

This week's Gospel, from St Luke, is about a man who invites friends to a special dinner. They all make excuses so the man becomes angry and invites other people. Jesus said this was like God's call. Those who don't listen miss out on the love God has for them.

The Mistake!

Each week a mistake will be carefully hidden in the newsletter. Last week the upcoming Halls Creek concert slogan was written incorrectly: "Altogether as a big mop"!

UPCOMING EVENTS: Please read these and keep up-to-date with events in our school.
Saturday August 28th: Halls Creek Concert: Our performance is at 1.00pm sharp. Children will need to be at the oval no later than 12.30pm.

"Nguyuru waaringarrem- All together as a big mob."

I ask God's blessings on our school community, and especially on the mother of Deborah Laird who taught here briefly in 2008.

GUESS WHO?

Anyone knowing the owner of this head can send an email to admin@warlawurru.wa.edu.au under the subject "Head guess". The first correct entry will receive a great "Warlawurru Catholic School" pen and their photo will appear in the following newsletter as our first-ever website competition winner. If you don't think you have a chance of winning, just remember, no-one entered our education slogan competition.

Entries close: as soon as I receive a correct one!
